FOREWORD

This book is yours to last through years
That dim the Past with Present tears.

So take this volume from its dusty shelf And look again on your former self.

Drink deep once more of Memorie's wine;
Recall old Central in its prime.

Between these pages find them
All; The hopes, the fun that filled each hall.

BEATRICE PURVIS

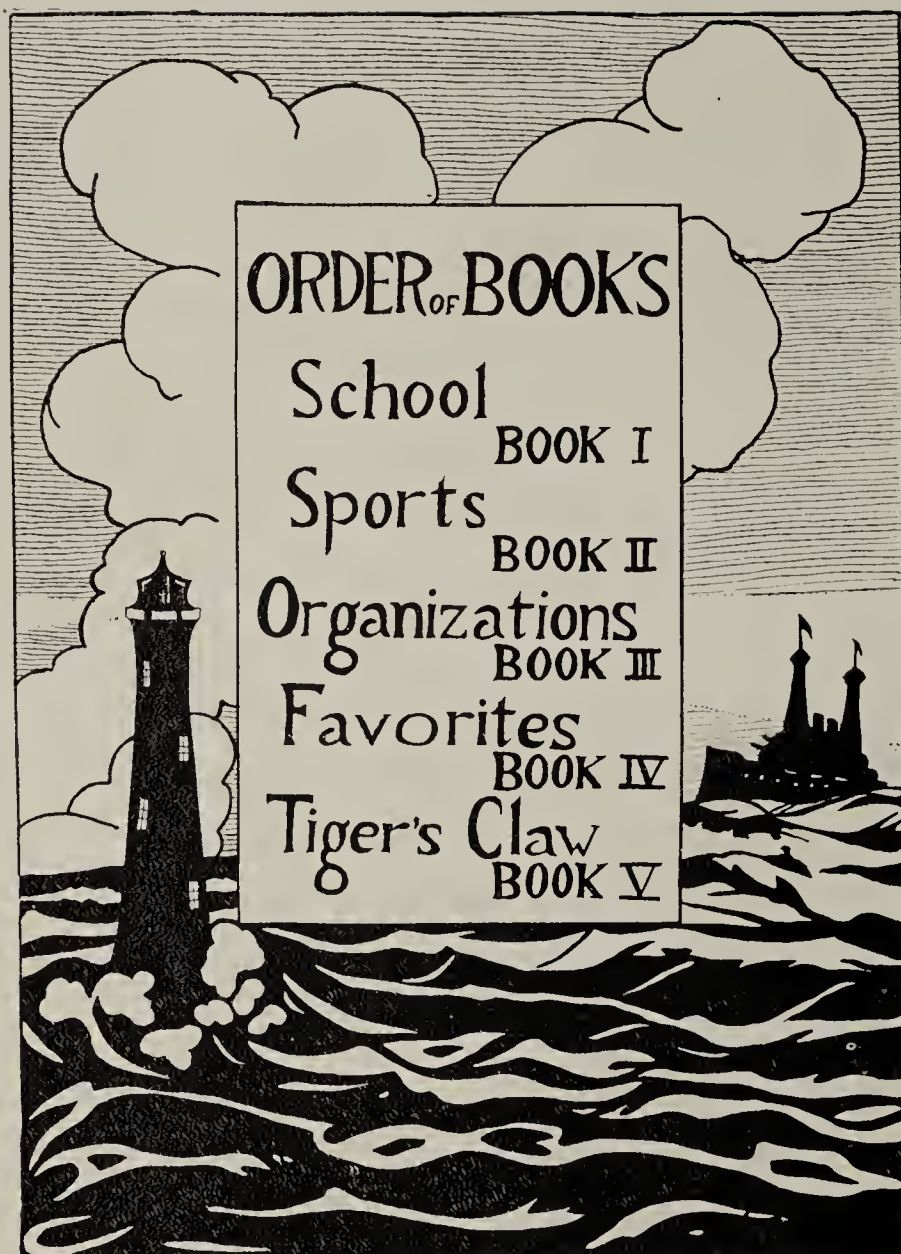

DEDICATION

There is a man at Central, who holds our aims and interests close to his heart, who by his untiring efforts has helped to raise our scholastic standing, and to give us a football team that holds an enviable position among high schools. He calls us Friends—for us no higher compliment can be. To this man C.S. Simons, History Instructor and Football Coach, this book is dedicated.

AMBORN, BETTY LOU

"The fair, the chaste, the unexpressive she."

ARMSTRONG, HELLEN LUCILE

"Her look composed and steady eye, Bespoke a matchless constancy."

ATKINS, ALEXANDER

"A true man is earnest, therefore enthusiastic."

AXELROD, ROSE H.

"A sweet attractive kind of face
A full assurance given by looks."

BACKUS, MINNIE BELL

"And looks commercing with the skies
Her rapt soul sitting in her eyes."

BAMMEL, BENNIE CORNELIA

"There's nothing ill can dwell in such a temple."

BARDEN, HELEN ELIZABETH

"Be to her virtues very kind
Be to her faults a little blind."

BATEMAN, NELVERNA

"She looks as clear as morning roses wet with dew."

BENBURY, LEMUEL S.

"He who agrees with himself agrees with others."

BENNET, MALCOLM D.

"Common sense is genius in its working dress."

BRUNNER, BRITT

"Assume virtue, if you have it not."

BRUNET, LOUISE S.

"Her eyes were deeper than the depth
Of waters stilled at even'."

CALLAGHAN, GEORGE FRANKLIN

"Thoughts shut up warm air
And spoil like bails unopened to the sun."

CARPENTER, BILLIE

"Her face is full of light
As a lantern in the night."

CARKEET, GEORGE E.

"Oh let not woman's weapons, waterdrops, stain my manly cheeks."

CHILDERS, HOMER

"An open countenance, but close thoughts."

CHRISTIE, IMOGENE

"She, the sunflower of sweetness, Lady of Loyalty."

COREY, LEOLA MARIE

"Do I not know she is pretty and young?"

COHN, ABE

"A man of gladness seldom falls into madness."

COSGROVE, CATHERINE

"Quiet and unassuming I wend my way."

DE BLIEUX, MARGARET MARTIN

"She is pretty to walk with
And witty to talk with."

DENBO, FRANCES

"She is coral of goodne'sse' Ruby of rightfulness."

DENT, JANE

"When a maiden's too forward, the admirer deems it time to draw back."

DERMODY, RUTH EILEEN

"Courteous, though coy; Gentle, though retired."

DICKERSON, MARGARET

"The joy of health and youth, her eyes displayed."

DODGE, CECILLE ZOE

"And her dark eyes—how eloquent!—
Ask what they would 'twas granted."

DORFMAN, LEON

"And he is oft the meanest man
Who is not wise at all."

DOYLE, LUCILE MARGARET

"Grace was in all her steps, heaven in her eyes."

DUERER, ROBERTA GRACE

"A maiden never bold."

DUFFY, INEZ CECILLE

"Favours to none, to all she smiles extends."

DUNNINGTON, CARMELITA

"Age cannot wither her, or custom stale
Her infinite variety."

ERZT, ALBERT J.

"Trust not in him, that seems a saint."

EUBANK, LOUELLA

"Oh! she was good as she was fair."

FENDLASON, MILDRED E.

"So buxom, blithe, and debonair."

FISCHER, ANNIE MARTHA

"And, O, her een, the spak sic things!"

FLUKINGER, BERTHA

"Where'er she turns, the Graces homage pay."

FORRESTER, RUSSELL

"A joke's a very serious thing."

GATES, FRANCES ELIZABETH

"Simple maiden, void of art."

GAYLOR, RHEA

"Her rapt soul sitting in her eyes."

GORDON, BERTHA HARRIET

"Ae smile o' her wad banish care."

GRADO, JOHN

"He that is giddy thinks the world turns round."

GREENBERG, MARIAN

"She that bears a noble mind."

GROSSMAN, HELEN

"Like Twilight's too, her dusky hair."

HALEY, KATHERINE MARIE

"Thou as Heaven art fair and young Thine eyes like twin stars shining."

HANDLEY, LILLIAN EDNA

"Tell me, if she were not design'd
Th' eclipse and glory of her kind?"

HARPOLE, THOMAS MIDDLETON

"It needs some sense to play the fool."

HERRMANN, MARGUERITE

"I wish her store of worth may leave her poor of wishes."

HUTTON, FAY ETTA

"How e'er it be it seems to me
'Tis only noble to be good."

KAISER, EARL RUDOLPH

"The man that blushes is not quite a brute."

KALLEEN, GEORGE

"His eyebrow dark and eye of fire Showed spirit quick and prompt to ire."

KAPLAN, PEARL

"While I think of thee, dear friend,
All losses are restored and sorrows end."

KAPLAN, JOE

"The man of thought strikes deepest and strikes safest."

KEMP, LEBBEUS

"By ignorance is pride increased
They most assume, who know the least."

KRISTINIK, IRMA ROSE

"No looks proceed from those fair eyes, but to me wonder breed."

LACKNER, EDGAR

"He who hath health has hope and he who has hope has everything."

LANGE, LOUISE

"Shall I compare thee to a summer's day?"

McDANIEL, LOUISE FRANCES

"Her cheeks are like the blushing cloud."

McDONALD, EDITH

"Sober, steadfast, and demure."

McDONALD, ELIZABETH L.

"To me, fair friend, you never can be old."

McKINLEY, LILLIAN

"What 'er thou dost is always well done."

McNALLY, CHARLES ARTHUR

"A man of hope and forward looking mind."

MAAS, GERTRUDE

"A merry heart and true!"

MANN, HOWARD T. JR.

"A Mann after his own heart."

MARTIN, MILDRED M.

"She seems as happy as a wave
That dances on the sea."

MARWILL, STELLA EVELYN

"The very sweetest has to thee been given."

MENDELL, DAN

"A perfect terror with the ladies."

MILBY, MARGARET JOHANNA

"A face with gladness overspread."

MINTZ, SAM

"Virtue itself offends when coupled with forbidding manners."

MILLER, LEONA VIRGINIA MAY

"Small, demure, and tranquil."

MOODY, FRANCES LOUISE

"A friend to all she meets."

MONCRIEF, STEPHEN

"Be always as merry as ever you can
For no one delights in a sorrowful man."

MOONEY, JOHN

"He touches nothing but he adds a charm."

MORGAN, BETTIE

"A waking eye, a prying mind."

MORRISON, LACY PAUL

"Fashion'd so slenderly Young, and so fair."

MUMA, KATHERINE

"She is a maiden, bright and free."

PALMER, MARJORIE

"A pensive moonlight face
A thrilling voice to hear."

PARDUE, KATHERINE MARIE

"The mildest manners
And the gentlest heart."

PAULSON, PALMA MARGARET

"Endeavor, foresight, strength and skill."

RAINEY, ELLEN NORA

"That brow so soft, so calm, yet eloquent."

RADOFF, DAVID

"Whence is thy learning? Hast thy toil O'er books consumed the midnight oil."

RAINBOLT, THOMAS MARION

"On their own merits modest men are dumb."

REESE, CHARLES KELLER, JR.

"A well of lofty thought."

REEVES, FRED C.

"A man he seems of cheerful yesterdays and confident tomorrows."

ROBERTSON, ORLEAN

"Only a sweet and virtuous soul."

ROSENFELDER, KATHERINE BETH

"So nobly free, so softly tender."

ROSENZWEIG, ARENA

"Her smile, it haunts my memory yet."

ROSS, HENRIETTA

"And something about her most sweetly Reminds me of daisies and birds."

ROTHWELL, KATHRYN

"In thy heart the dew of youth
On thy lips the smile of truth."

RUSCHE, LA MONTE

"A spirit yet unquelled and high."

SCHWARTZ, SARAH

"Maiden, with the meek, brown eyes
In whose orbs a shadow lies."

SHARMAN, DORA

"And that smile, like sunshine, darts
Into many a sunless heart."

SIBLEY, WINNIE LOIS

"And all around her looked kind on her
And called her good and fair."

SMITH, DAN C. JR.

"Self-exaltation is the fool's paradise."

SMITH, CLYDE B.

"And 'en his failings leaned to virtue's side."

SPENCER, WINIFRED VIRGINIA

"Round her eyes her tresses fell
Which were blackest none could tell."

SMITH, KATRINA

"She is most fair and there unto Her life doth rightly harmonize."

TIMMONS, JESSE LOUISE

"Of her bright face one glance will trace
A picture on the brain."

TURNER, HAZEL ALINE

"The very smile before you speak
Enireles all hearts."

WALTERS, VERNON

"A man's errors are what make him amiable."

WARD, BEVERLY ALINE

"So light of foot, so light of spirit."

WILSON, BERTHA OWEN

"So sweet a face such angel gave."

WILLIAM, GUY

His heart is as far from wrong as heaven from earth.

WILLIAMS, R. D.

"He who knows and knows not what he knows is asleep. Awake him."

WITHERS, MAY ELIZABETH

"Verily, a good sport."

WOMELDORF, CARLYLE

"Whose nature is so far from doing harm that he suspects none."

JERABECK, ALINE

"A girl of rare charm and intellect."

RENTZEL DELOS

"A goodfellow in a way, but he doesn't weigh much."

SEEFELD, CARL

"Venerate the man whose heart is warm."

WALLACE, WILLIAM M.

"He never needs the screen of lies
His inward bosom to disguise."

WHITEHEAD, ANITA

"She seems a part of joy and Spring."

WISLON, ESTELLE FORD

"An honest man's the noblest work of God."

ANDREWS, FORREST LEE

"My ambition is to be sublimely great or nothing."

BAERNSTEIN, DORIS EVELYN

"Efficient and dependable."

HOOVER, JAMES ARCHER

"He trudged along, unknowing what he sought
And whistled as he went for want of thought."

HUNTER, LOIS JOSEPHINE

"Kind hearts are more than coronets."

ADAIR, CLARENCE

"Judge not according to appearances."

ADERMAN, VIDOR

"True fops help Nature's work, and go to school
To file and furnish God's almighty fool."

AGREGARD, HAROLD

"Oh wad some power the giftie gie us
To see ourselves as others see us"

ALEXANDER, LEE

He could, perhaps, have swum the Hellespont.

ALFANO, SAM

"Could it be worth thy wondrous waste of pains to publish to the world thy lack of brains?"

ALLEMAN, JOSEPHINE

She's all my fancy painted her.
She's lovely, she's divine.

ALLEN, LORINE

A simple maid in her flower
Is worth a hundred coats-of-arms.

ALESSANDRA, JANE

Soft words with nothing in them make a song.

ANGELL, RUSSELL

His ready speech flowed fair and free
In phrase of gentlest courtesy.

ANKENMAN, MELBA E.

Your fair discourse hath been as sugar
Making the hard way sweet and delectable.

ARCHER, FLORENCE

"I am not a saint."

ARNOLD, KENT

"How much lies in laughter: the cipher key, wherewith we decipher the whole man."

AXELROD, ISADORE

There be of them that have left a like name behind them.

AYERS, ELIZABETH

A heart as soft, a heart as kind,
A heart as sound and free
As in the whole world thou canst find.

BACKUS, GLADYS E.

Ornament of a meek and quiet spirit.

BAILEY, WILLIAM

Oh dream of joy is this indeed
The lighthouse top I see.

BARNEIL, VIRGINIA

The dew that on the violet lies
Marks the dark lustre of thine eyes.

BARNES, JEWEL

Jewels five words long,
That on the stretched forefinger of Time
Sparkle forever.

BAUGUSS, PAUL

There is no greater cause of melancholy than idleness.

BAUER, ELIZABETH

She is as kind as she is fair.

BAYLEY, RICHARD

Far may we search before we find
A heart so manly and so kind.

BENNETT, CATHERINE

The moon looks upon many night flowers; the night flowers see but one moon.

BERNHARDT, ZULA MAE

For her heart is like the sea
Ever open, brave and free.

BERRY, WALLACE

The better part of valor is discretion.

BEST, NELL

Life is fullest of content
Where delight is innocent.

BOONE, MARY ELIZABETH

Her modest looks the cottage might adorn
Sweet as the primrose peeks beneath the thorn.

BOOTH, MILDRED

"Timid, ever—Bold, never."

BOYLES, WALDO

We grant although he had much wit,
He was very shy in using it.

BRANCH, ELEANOR

A maiden never bold;
Of spirit so still and quiet, that her motion
Blushed at herself.

BREIER, ESTHER

When maiden such as Esther die
Her place ye may not well supply.

BREWER, LAWRENCE

To displease is my pleasure;
I love to be hated!

BRITTON, JAMES

A moral, sensible, and well-bred man.

BROUSSARD, ELMA FRANCES

Swift footed to uphold the right
And to uproot the wrong.

BROWNE, EMMA LOUISE

The maid whose manners are retired,
Who patient waits to be admired.

BROWN, LOUISE

Her face betokened all things dear and good.

BROWN, MARY MARGARET

"Good humor is always contagious."

BROWN, MABEL A.

The hyacinth's for constancy wi' its unchanging blue.

BRUMLEU, ISABEL

One only hope my heart can cheer—
The hope to meet again.

BRUNSON, EVELYN

An outward and visible sign of an inward spiritual grace.

BRYANT, MILDRED

Thine eyes are springs in whose serene
And silent waters heaven is seen.

BURG, S. A.

Better a witty fool than a foolish wit.

BURCH, ZORADIA

And o'er that fair, broad brow were wrought
The intersected lines of thought.

BURKE, JEAN

The thread of our life would be dark, Heaven knows,
If it were not with your friendship and love intertwined.

BUSH, ROSE

O beautiful, royal Rose,
O Rose so fair and sweet!

BYRNE, ROBERT

"Bah! I scorn the wiles of women; a lawyer shall I be."

CALDWELL, HELEN

For herein Fortune shows herself more kind
Than is her custom.

CALHOUN, ELIZABETH

Those eyes, affectionate and glad,
That seemed to love whatever they looked upon.

CALLAHAN, DORIS D.

"Friend more divine than all divinities."

CAMP, MYRTLE MAY

"Sweets to the sweet—"

CAMPBELL FAY

"Measures, not men have always been my mark."

CAMPBELL, MARGUERITE

"All beauty is delightful, but human beauty is the best of all."

CAMPELL, MARY SANFORD

Whose large blue eyes, fair locks and snowy hands
Might shake the saintship of an anchorite.

CASH, NELSON

Every thought was once a poem.

CATHEY LOUISE

Strange to relate; but wonderfully true,
That even the shadows have their shadows too.

CAYWOOD, WILLIAM

His modesty was such,
That one might say (to tell the truth)
He rather had too much.

CHILDERS, DOROTHY

Not all the noblest songs are worth one noble deed.

CLARK, FANNY

Stately and tall she moves in the hall.

CLARK, HEWITT

A little nonsense now and then
Is relished by the best of men.

CLAY, NOIMA

"She walks in beauty like the night,
Of cloudless climes and starry skies."

CLEAVES, WILBUR

The greatest truths are the simplest, and so are the greatest men.

COLES, RUDOLPH

All that was ever joyous and clear and fresh
Thy music doth surpass!

COLLIER, GERALD

Mark the perfect man and behold the upright.

COLLIER, JAMES

A hooded eagle among the blinking owls.

COOK, MARIAN

Languor is not in your heart;
Weakness is not in your word.

COOK, MARY

I have a passion for the name of "Mary."
For it has a magic sound to me.

CONN, VIVIAN

A thankful heart is not only the greatest virtue, but the parent of all other virtues.

COPPEN, MARIE SETA

Her soul seems hovering in her eyes.

CORNELIUS, ANNIE

Is she not more than painting can express
Or youthful poets fancy when they love?

COTTRILL, ETHEL

Eyes that displace
The neighbor diamond, and outface
The sunshine by their own sweet grace.

COUCH, RUTH

She moves a goddess,
And she looks a queen

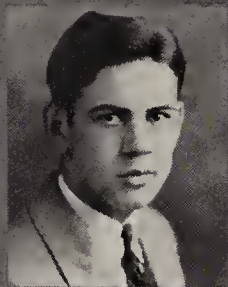

COWAN, LADY GERTRUDE

"Come and trip it as you go
On the light fantastic toe."

CRAPITTO, LOUIS

Open my heart and you shall see
Graved inside of it, "Italy."

CROCKETT, CLAUDE

I dote on his very absence.

CROSBY, MATTIE

Grace was in all her steps, heaven in her eyes,
In every gesture dignity and love.

CROWDER, TOM

None but himself can be his paraillel.

CRUMMY, LILLIE MAY

Oh May, sweet voiced one!

CUNNINGHAM, OLIVIA

I always thought a tinge of blue
Improved a charming woman's stocking.

CURSON, ELIZABETH

My dear one, let us swear an eternal friendship.

DANBURG, BERTHA

No beauty is like the beauty of the mind.

DANBURG, LAURA

Too fair to worship, too divine to love.

DAUTERINE, CARROLL

His only labor was to kill the time.

DENTLER, GEORGE W.

A sophistical rhetorician intoxicated with the exuberance of his own verbosity.

DE GEORGE, JULIA

To be slow in words is a woman's only virtue.

DE VORE, MARION S.

Wherever valor true is found
True modesty will there abound.

DIDIOT, BERNICE

To hear her speak, and gently smile,
You were in Paradise the while.

DISHROON, WESLEY

Much study hath made him lean
And pale and leaden eyed.

DISHONGH, DORA

The music that can deepest reach,
And cure all ill, is cordial speech.

DOWSETT, JUANITA

"She was a phantom of delight
When first she gleamed upon my sight."

DREYLING, BLANCHE GRAY

The light upon her face
Shines from the windows of another world.

DRUESDOW, VIRGINIA

And thy deep eyes amid the gloom
Shine like jewels in a shroud.

DUNCAN, DESSIE DEL

Like to the damask rose you see,
Or like the blossom on the tree.

DUNCAN, EUNICE

"She has a heart with room for every joy."

DUNMAN, GLADYS

There is a garden in her face
Where roses and white lilies grow.

EARNEST, VIC

Time could not chill him, fortune sway,
Nor toil with all its burdens tire.

EASTLAND, EVA

Of all the girls that e'er were seen,
There's none as fine as Eva.

EAVES, WILLIE MAE

The two noblest of things, which are sweetness and light.

EDWARDS, MAXINE

Woman's faith and woman's trust
Write the characters in the dust.

EFRON, MIRIAM HARRIETTE

She with all the charm of woman,
She with all the breadth of man.

ELLIOT, MARGARET

All the reasonings of men are not worth one sentiment of woman.

ELLIOT, BERNICE CATHERINE

Queen rose of the rosebud garden of girls.

EVERITT, JOSEPH

He knows what's what, and that's as high
As metaphysic wit can fly.

EVERSHADE, FREDIKA

A face with gladness overspread;
Soft smiles by human kindness bred.

FARNSWORTH, JESSIE

She in beauty, education, blood,
Holds hand with any princess of the world.

FARRINGTON, MINA LEE

Her step is music and her voice is song.

FAULKNER, BONNIE

A lovely lady garmented in light.

FEENEY, LYNTON

The mould is lost wherein was made
This a per se of all.

FENNER, VIOLA MARGARET

Violet dim,
But sweeter than the lids of Juno's eyes.

FERGUSON, PAUL

Few things are impossible to diligence and skill.

FILIZOLA, ANNA MAE

May, Queen of blossoms
And fulfilling flowers.

FILSON, CLUFF

If to her share some female errors fall
Look on her face and you'll forget them all.

FERRUGGIA, PHILIP

"May life have much in store for him, as he deserves."

FOOTE, STEPHEN

Blest be the man who first invented sleep!

FONVILLE, BEVERLY

He is a fool who thinks by force or skill
To turn the current of this woman's will.

FORD, HAZEL

And her face so fair
Stirr'd with her dream, as rose leaves with the air.

FOUTS, HERBERT

One science only will one genius fit;
So vast is art, so narrow human wit.

FRALEY, FLORENCE

" * * * That if eyes were made for seeing Then beauty is its own excuse for being."

FRAZER, NANCY

I loved you for the winning way
That helped to brighten each hard day.

FRERICHS, JOHNNIE

He fought with amazing emulation for the last place in the class.

FRETWELL, ORLEAN JANICE

Those eyes which burn through smiles that fade in tears,
Like stars half quenched in mists of silver dew.

FULLER, OLLIE AGNES

We have been friends together
In sunshine and in shade.

FUQUA, BESSIE

Thy voice is sweet, as if it took
Its music from thy face.

GAMMILL, LORENE

Her very frowns are fairer far
Than smiles of other maidens are.

GARDNER, ALETHA VIRGINIA

Those curious locks so aptly twin'd
Whose every hair a soul doth bind.

GARDNER, MEREDYTH

The blast that blows loudest, is soon overblown.

GARNER, RAYMOND

Apparently not thinking, so quiet all the time,
But really, our Raymond, has a keen and fertile mind.

GIESFKE, FRANCES SARAH

The things which are seen are temporal;
But the things which are not seen are eternal.

GILLESPIE, MARY LOUISE

The sweet expression of that face
Forever changing, yet ever the same.

GOODMAN, MILTON

Just a wee bit timid, tho you'd never guess,
How many sweethearts he does possess.

GOODMAN, WILLIS K.

Presence of mind and courage in distress
Are more than armies to procure success.

GOLDSTEIN, GLADYS

Patience is a remedy for every sorrow.

GRAVES, MARVIN

And from his lessons seek and find
Instruction with an humble mind.

GRANT, MARGARET HELEN

So fortunate is one among us who has the power to express
Her thoughts in most excellent English with just the proper poise and stress.

GRIFFIN, ELSIE HAZILTINE

She will never make a parade of her knowledge,
Because she will be intent on acquiring more.

GULLETTE, BAYLESS

He doth protest to much, me thinks

GUNN, BERNICE

Her loveliness, I never knew, until she smiled at me.

GUTHRIE, SARA FRANCES

And her face so fair
Stirred with her dream, as rose-leaves with the air.

HACKETT, LAWSON

His sense of humor helps many a time
To lighten burdens; a way out of trouble, he will find.

HAMILTON, PATRICIA NEALE

Every delay is too long to one who is in a hurry.

HANSON, ANNA LUELLA

A simple maiden in her flower
Is worth a hundred coats-of-arms.

HALL, ELOUISE MASTEN

She was shy; she was coy, she had strings on many a boy.

HANCOCK, JOHN D.

I love to hear thine earnest voice
Wherever thou are hid,
Thou sayst an undisputed thing
In such a solemn way.

HAMMAN, JOHN JR.

Tall and stately, not afraid to work,
Capable of many things, not disposed to shirk.

HARING, MARIE ELIZABETH

A mind of peace with all below
A heart whose love is innocent.

HARMAN, ALICE

She is true, as she hath proved herself, and therefore, like herself, wise, fair, and true.

HARRIS, MAUDE

Just a little bit of sunshine to gladden the whole world,
A dozen boys or more, we guess, would like to claim this girl.

HARRISON, MILDRED

There is no wisdom like frankness.

HAMRICK, WENDELL

I may not be Methuselah, but I am not a child in arms.

HATHAWAY, SETH

He will be welcome wherever he may stray,
For when it comes to making friends Seth hath-a-way!

HEAFER, JOHN B.

As shaking terrors from his blazing hair,
A sanguine comet gleams through the air.

HERREN, MARGUERITE

The divine last touch in perfecting the beautiful is animation.

HEBEL, THERESE

What sweet delight a quiet life affords.

HILL, ORA MAY

The readiness of doing both express
No other but the doer's willingness.

HEISER, ROBERT

He who excuses himself, accuses himself.

HENDRIX, VENORA

For she was just the quiet kind
Whose natures never vary
Like streams that keep a summer mind
Snow hid in January.

HENIG, STANLEY

Be not afraid of every stranger,
Start not aside at every danger.

HERRING, MARION

However rare true love is, true friendship is rarer.

HODGES, EDNA

It is only the shallow that gurgle and murmur,
But the depths are dumb.

HOVAS, ALICE

Thy modesty's a candle to thy merit.

HOPKINS, TOM

I hold he loves me best who calls me "Tom."

HORN, ALTHEA

Althea smiles not in a house of tears.

HUCHERSON, GEORGE

I, a parrot, am taught by you the names of others;
I have learned of myself to say: "Hail, Caesar."

HOWZE, EDITH

Like a ray of sunshine in a darkened room
This black-haired maiden dispels our gloom.

HOWZE, MILDRED

Those eyes, affectionate, lucent hue
Eyes too expressive to be blue.

HUME, HELEN

I count myself in nothing so happy
As in a soul remembering my good friends.

JACOBS, ANNIE OMA

Happy in this, she is not, yet so old,
But she may learn; happier than this.

JAMES, JOHN

I am the red-headed music-maker.
I am the dreamer of dreams . . .

JAMES, EVELYN

One there is above all others, well deserves the name of Friend.

JEANES, MAXINE

Ne'er did Grecian chisel trace
A nymph, a Naid, or a Grace
Of finer form or lovelier face.

JETER, JESSIE

Learning makes the fool more foolish
But the wise more wiser.

JOHN, ELISABETH

Like a big red rose in the morning sun,

As the smile upon thy face."

ZUBER, DAVID

"What strong hand can hold his swift foot back?"

BARRETT, HENRY JR.

"Genius is mainly an affair of energy."

BASS, T. H. JR.

His face was of the doubtful kind,
That wins the eye and not the mind.

BINZ, NORMAN

Remember, where the judgment's weak,
The prejudice is strong!

BOYLES, JAMES

His limbs were cast in manly mould
For hardy sport, or contest bold.

CABLER, LUCILLE

True as the dial to the sun,
Although it not be shined upon.

CRUMP, SILAS

There's nothing like a rattling ride for curing melancholy.

DENNIE, EWING

Tho modest, on his unembossed brow
Nature had written "gentleman."

EATHWELL, SUNSHINE

Serene, yet warm, human, yet firm her mind.

EPPERSON, VERA

"A prudent girl concealeth her knowledge."

FLOWERS, EDWIN

Edwin Flowers, described might be
As a man of mournful mind.
No characteristic trait had he
Of any distinctive kind.

FRANZEN, DOROTHY

'Tis sweeter for thee despairing
Than aught in the world besides.

FUNK, HENRY

A man is what he eats.

GRIFFIN, JOHN

Very good-looking, tho quiet and reserved,
Not crazy about "flappers"; thinks them absurd.

GRAUER, DAVID

"A kinder friend has no man."

LITTLE, ELMER

Elmer Little, is it not a cute name?
Are you little Elmer of comic page, page fame?

LOFSTROM, LOUISE

Louise Lofstrom, we bid you adieu;
May your life be long; your sorrows few.

MARTIN, PANSY

A very sweet lassie is Miss Pansy Martin;
We'll miss her bright eyes, so sad is our partin'.

MCINNIS, GRACE

Grace McInnis, a sweet maid and coy,
To know her has been just car loads of joy.

MERRITT, GARRETT

Of Garrett Merritt we're bound to confess,
We're expecting an imminent, well-known success.

MILLER, ELIZABETH

Elizabeth Miller so pretty and sweet,
A fairer young maiden you never will meet.

MOBLEY, MARION

Marion Mobley, a youth of much wit,
Nothing shall trouble because of his grit.

PEARSON, MORSE

Morse Pearson, as you start on your way,
We hope you'll grow happier each succeeding day.

PLUMB, JACK

A very bright youth is young Jack Plumb
Tho it rhymes with his name, we know he is not dumb.

SEEFELDT, HARVEY

He that can have patience can have what he will.

SHEFFIELD, LOLA FAY

"A smiling face gives many grace."

SOUTHWARD, ELIZABETH

" . . . a worthy lady."

SWEET, LOUIS

Bolder grew, and pressed her hand in the dance as he whispered hurried words of love."

WALDMANN, IRVIN

The only jewel that will not decay is knowledge.

WARREN, WILMA

"Graceful and useful in all she does."

WATSON, FRANK

A right smart fellow, but oh, how trifling.

CAPTAIN J. B. BLAKELY

Football Sponsor

As in the olden days of chivalry, the "faire layde," graciously acknowledged queen, smiled upon her Lord in knightly combat, inspiring him to victory, thus did our fair sponsor aid her team.

At the most discouraging moments in the games, when it looked as if old Central would go down in defeat, she never once lost hope or allowed herself to think that her team could be the loser. By her faith in them and her sincere enthusiasm she encouraged the boys to victory.

But she never let her zeal detract from her fairness or good sportsmanship, for she was always magnanimous to her opponents, and carried herself with a dignity that not only made Central proud of her, but drew admiration from the opposing teams.

Besides always encouraging the boys by her presence on the field of battle, she was ever ready to take the part of a gracious hostess in her home to them.

"Mary Liz," as she was affectionately called, proved that her "beauty was not only skin deep." A well poised character, a good all around sport—she will long be remembered by the students of Central High.

J. B. "RACE HORSE" BLAKELY
Captain—Halfback

J. B. Blakely proved not only a player of worth but also an excellent leader. He proved to be one of the fastest and best ground gainers of all backfield men in the state. J. B. always fought with a fixed determination to do his very best, never giving up until the final whistle. He could always be depended upon to come through in the pinch. This fight, grit, and determination of Blakely's caused the team to fight all the harder because they saw him doing his best and not leaving it all to them. It was also this fighting spirit that won him praise and admiration from every Central rooter. This was Blakely's third and last season with the team and proved to be his most successful. He is known as one of Central's "Four Horsemen." Who will fill Blakely's shoes next season? The man will be hard to find.

ANDREW "RUNT" SAWYER

Quarterback

Captain Elect

Sawyer won praise for himself from every Centralite by his brainy selection of plays, by always keeping the enemy guessing, and by continually calling his team through for long gains. He could hit the line harder than any other man his size in the state. Time and again he would return punts twenty or thirty yards. If an opponent broke through the line, it was Sawyer who would stop him. Sawyer and Kattmann will be the only two of the "Four Horsemen" back next year, and the team will likely be built around them.

BRUCE "KITTY" KATTMANN

Halfback

Kattmann proved to be the triple threat man of the team. Time and again he was called upon to make a gain, to punt out of danger, or to drop a pass into some Tiger's waiting arm twenty or thirty yards down the field. Many times Kattmann's educated toe put the Tigers in striking distance of the goal. He could also dropkick the pig-skin between the bars whenever opportunity offered. Kattmann is the third of the "Four Horsemen" and he will be back fighting for the Tigers next season.

JIMMIE "JIP" BOYLES

Fullback

Boyles the other member of the "Four Horsemen" always played a tight, peppy game at fullback. He was a consistent ground gainer and could break up passes of the enemy without fail. He was always there, backing up the line and leading interference when called upon to do so. Many times he helped block onrushing opponents while a Tiger threw a pass or punted. Boyles will also be absent when the roll is called next season.

JAMES "BLINKEYE" HOOVER

Quarter and Halfback

Hoover played a hard steady game whenever sent in. When he was directing the team play at quarter he kept cool and did all he could to steady the team and make them fight. Hoover, also, leaves his place to be filled by someone else next season.

RUDOLPH "RUDY" COLES

End

Coles played a brilliant game at end always doing all in his power to keep the Tigers' slate clean from defeat. He could break up end runs attempted by the enemy, block or intercept passes, and was fast in dumping his man and getting down the field to receive one of Kattman's well aimed passes and carry it on for a long gain.

MARION "FIRPO" DEVORE

End

DeVore shared honors with Coles as two ends who kept their opponents worried. DeVore was fast, could get his man, get through the line, and upset a play of the opponents in its infancy. He could dump the men who attempted to break up an end run of the Tigers. Like Coles, he could quickly get down the field to receive a pass. DeVore will not be back next fall.

GEORGE "HEAD" UHLER
Guard

Uhlér, who also has played his last game with Central, proved that he was a mainstay on the team. "Head," as he is better known, was a valuable man on the offence, holding the opponents at bay while a Tiger backfield man got away for a gain. On the defense he was mighty hard to put aside and could down the opponents before they had made a gain. Uhlér always kept cool and played clean football.

DECATUR "DEEK" O'BRIEN
Center

O'Brien played his first year with Central, but nevertheless played a bang-up game at center and won a letter. He had good control of the ball, snapped it quickly, and gave no sign to the opponents as to who was going to carry the ball. He was heavy and did his share of holding the line on the defense and of blocking the enemy on the offence. O'Brien will be back next year, being the only line man to return.

RUSSEL "RUSTY" WOLFE
Center

Wolfe, who shared honors with O'Brien at center, also played his first year with the Tigers. Although the lightest man on the line, he was effective on both the offence and defense. He was not as easily pushed aside as the opponents thought he would be. His passes to the backfield were always well directed and fast. Wolfe also finished his High School career this season.

MARION "COTTON" MOBLEY
Tackle

Mobley was a tackle of note and was fighting all the time. He could get his man on the offense and could stop his man on the defense. Mobley often got through the line tackling the player before he had reached the line of scrimmage, or recovering a fumble made by an opponent. Mobley will also be a loss to the Tiger fold next season.

HERBERT "TIG" TIGNER
Tackle

Tigner like Mobley played a tight consistent game at tackle, and the two together formed one of the best sets of tackles in the state. Tigner was tough and could stand many hard licks. He could also rip large holes in the opponents' lines for the Tiger backfire to come through. When the opponents hit him, they stopped, for they had gone as far as possible.

GEORGE "BRUTE" KALLEEN
Guard

Kalleen was a hard fighter, holding his man at all times. It was impossible to brush him aside on an attempted line plunge, and he would be there ready to stop the approaching player like a stone wall. When Kalleen and Tigner hit the line, the hole made was big enough to run a train through, and the backfield could make four or five yards through it. Kalleen having graduated in January, will also be a great loss to the team.

Central vs. Goose Creek

The Central Tigers started the season off in fine style with a decisive victory over the Goose Creek team. The fighting Tigers outclassed their opponents in every department of the game and there was no question as to its outcome after the first few minutes of play. It was beautiful coordination of the line and backfield and the long periods of training and practice showed up to the best advantage in the manner in which the Tigers carried the ball at all times. Bruce Kattman scored two touchdowns during the game and Sawyer, Hoover and Jimmy Boyles contributed one apiece to the total which, at the end of the game, stood, Central 32, Goose Creek 3.

This clean-cut victory showed to the Tiger fans that they were supporting a fighting team, and one that was sure to go a long way toward the state championship.

Central vs. Livingston

The Central Tigers made the trip to Livingston and defeated the Livingston High team by a score of 26 to 0. The Livingston team put up opposition but the stronger team from Central had little trouble in winning.

Andy Sawyer, J. B. Blakely, Marion Mobley, Jimmy Boyles and Hoover, in fact the whole team played a game that showed the fighting spirit of the Tigers. There were no especially outstanding feature plays in the game, but mainly that beautiful cooperation of line and backfield that gives as a result, good football. The entire team is to be commended on that showing.

Central vs. Bay City

The Central Tigers went to Bay City and defeated the Bay City team by the fine score of 38—0. The game was a fine one from start to finish but was marred by a painful injury to our stellar quarterback and captain-elect, Andrew Sawyer. Andy was too zealous in his attempts to gain ground at every attempt and one of his famous "line hurdles" ended very disastrously for both himself and the Tiger team, as was proven in the Shreveport game.

The game, however, was a good one and the Tigers overcame their lapse in the first few minutes of play and defeated the Bay City team with heady, sensible football. Several shifts in the line-up were made by Coach Simons with varying success. The substitutes, also, played a very creditable game.

Central vs. Port Arthur

The Central Tigers scored a clean-cut, well earned victory over the Port Arthur Yellow Jackets on Saturday, November 1st, 1924, at West End Park. The game was a distinct upset to the hopes of the Yellow Jackets, it was a distinct asset to the Tigers to defeat such a strong team so easily.

The Tigers' defense against the visitors aerial attack was an important point in the victory, as well as the Central team's strength of the offence. Long and consistent gains by every member of the Tiger backfield, and beautiful coordination in the line were also two important factors in the victory. Bruce Kattman had his punting down to a fine point, and with Sawyer and Blakely making beautiful long gains, and the line plunging of the rest of the backfield in good shape, the Tigers advanced a step nearer to the state championship by the score of 17—0.

Central vs. Orange

The Central Tigers galloped to a 35 to 6 victory over the Orange High team at West End Park, Saturday, October 25th, and advanced that much more toward the state meet. The game served as a fine practice with all of the team partaking with interest. That is, the Tigers were in a class above the Orange team and although the visitors put up the expected amount of competition, the Tigers were not extended at all to win the game. Except for an exceptionally good run made by an Orange player after intercepting a Central pass, the visitors played a defensive game, and the Tigers took advantage of their own strong team and the opponents' poor line to sweep to an easy victory.

The team played well, individually and collectively, as it should, and the substitutes, sent in in the last half, also played a fine game. The general teamwork which was so splendid made it hard to determine or name the real star of the game. So let it suffice that the team won the honors of the day by the splendid cooperation of its members.

Central vs. Heights

The annual gridiron classic between the Tigers and the Heights "Bulldogs" proved to be one of the hardest fought games of the entire schedule with probable exception of that very disastrous struggle with the Purple and White eleven at Beaumont for the district championship in which the fighting Tigers came out second best. In the game with Heights, the two teams played and fought cleanly for three periods without either team making a score. The last quarter found the Black and Gold warriors starting a march down the field that ended in a touchdown, the toe of Bruce Kattman adding a point to it. The Tigers again launched an offensive that carried them to the 25-yard line, but the Tiger offence could not continue through the Heights' line that stiffened when they saw the shadow of their goal posts lengthening on their backs. Kattman then dropped back and kicked a field goal from there. Heights seemed to throw caution to the wind and opened up an aerial attack with abandon, Stampp staking everything on getting a touchdown for Heights. The Tigers immediately adapted themselves to this type of play and succeeded in grounding most of the passes. In the last minute or so of play, Wolf, Tiger center, intercepted one of these passes, and raced the necessary 28 yards for a touchdown and Kattman again added the point. The entire Central team played its usual splendid game, the line being in the thick of the fighting all the time and the backfield starring on the defense as well as the offence. Baxter Moody headed the substitutes in his fine running, interference, and punting, while the rest of the gang fought as hard in their respective positions. The prevailing sportsmanship was of the highest caliber and brought credit to both schools in the eyes of the public.

Central vs. Shreveport

The Central Tigers journeyed to Shreveport and played a fine game of football except for the fumbles at critical moments. This was the main trouble with the team on that occasion and cost us a victory, Shreveport winning by a 14—5 score.

The Tigers started fine, but the Shreveport forward passes soon became effective and they scored a touchdown in the first half in this manner. The Tigers gained their points by a field goal and a safety in the first half. The Shreveport team scored again in the last half when one of their players recovered a Tiger fumble on Central's thirty yard line and ran for a touchdown.

The game was hard fought and the Tigers made a wonderful attempt to come back after trailing on the score end for three periods.

Central vs. Beaumont

The Central Tigers went down to their defeat on Monday, November 17, at Beaumont. The Tigers were ordered to play Beaumont on the latter's gridiron, by the head of the Interscholastic league after the Beaumont-Heights game at Houston had been postponed. The Tigers, accompanied by about 500 rooters on a special train, went to Beaumont and marched to the local ball park. The Tigers scored a touchdown immediately after the opening whistle had blown, on the recovery of a fumble of a Beaumont back by Boyles, Central fullback. The Tigers led by Sawyer, Kattman, and Boyles, plunged across for a touchdown and Kattman added the point. From then until the beginning of the last quarter both teams fought fiercely and neither side was able to push over any score. Immediately after the opening whistle in this period, Beular, Beaumont's star quarterback, opened up a series of forward passes that seemed to overcome the Tigers. That combination, Beular and Balliew, seemed to work havoc with the ordinary defense put up by the Tigers, and Beaumont made a touchdown after recovering a fumble in Central's territory, made by Moody. Central took heart when Beaumont failed to make the point after the touchdown, and it seemed for a while that Central might win, 7 to 6. But Beular had other plans for the outcome of the game, for after a skillful mixture of passes and sweeping end runs by him, Beaumont brought the ball to Central's 9-yard line, and on a fake pass to the right, Balliew dashed 9 yards down the sidelines for the touchdown, this time, Beaumont added the point, making the score 13 to 7. The Tigers fought fiercely to overcome this lead, but they could not complete any of their belated attacks by the aerial route. The game ended, Beaumont 13, Central 7.

BASKETBALL

CAPTAIN ANDREW SAWYER

GLADYS DUNMAN

Basketball Sponsor

This year the team was given the power to elect a temporary sponsor until a popular vote could be taken. With true masculine admiration for beauty, brains, and good sportsmanship, the Central cagers chose Gladys Dunman. She viewed her team as a group of individuals not a machine; cheered them in every battle, and was there with the justly famous "Ninkum" for each emergency.

Victorious in the election, she chose as her maids those girls most popular with the school and the team; Fay Campbell, Alice Williamson, Bernice Ludeau, Anita Stewart, Bernice Didiot, Louise Joines, and Mary Elizabeth Withers.

ANDREW "RUNT" SAWYER
Captain—Forward

Andy was one of the most popular players that ever defended the honor of Central on the basketball court. He was fast and could carry the ball down the court and pass it to some waiting Tiger under the goal for a short shot. He was full of fight and played his best throughout every game. He was a captain whom the whole team liked, and they would fight their best when urged on by Andy. Sawyer was one of the main cogs in the famous Central fast dazzling short-passing game. He was, also, a very valuable man on the defense, staying on his man, often slapping the ball away from him at the least expected moment, and tearing down the court into the opponents territory.

HARRY NORMAN

Center

Harry Norman, who played his first season with the Tigers, proved to be fast and a sure guardian on the defense, and a dangerous shot on the offense. He was high point man of the season, his best games being the three District Championship games in which he scored fifty-two points. After the Tigers had worked the ball down the court with their short passing game, the ball was passed to Norman who dropped it in the basket. He was full of fight and was there fighting from start to finish.

GEORGE "CAESAR" HUCHERSON

Forward

Hucherson, though it was his first year with the Tigers, played a stella game at all times and was in there fighting from start to finish. He was not only fast but was a dangerous man on both defense and offense, and was able to find the basket from any angle of the court. Before the season ended "Caesar" had won the friendship and support of every Central rooter.

DAVID ZUBER

Guard

David Zuber was the other member of the Tiger guards that will be remembered by Tiger opponents and students for a long time as one of the best guards who has ever worn a Tiger uniform. He was not only a good guard but was also a splendid shooter. Many times when there was no man near the goal to shoot the basket, Zuber would ring it from mid-court. At other times he would be shifted to forward and he would always play a hard fast game which greatly helped the success of the team. Zuber will also be a loss to the team next season because he receives his diploma with the June class of "25."

GEORGE "HEAD" UHLER

Guard

"Head" was a player who was hard to get around, being able to guard his man so closely and to break up passes of the opposing team. He could get rid of the ball quickly, before the opponent could block him. It was this close guarding of Uhler and his teammate Zuber that held the scores of the opponents so low. George was an experienced player who could use his head in a pinch and who was always there in doing his best for the honor of Central High. He has played his last game with Central as he graduates this June.

Tigers Win Opener

Central 34—Triangles 32

Central opened their basket-ball season against the strong Y. M. C. A. Triangles, and after a hard, fast game the Tigers emerged victors by the score of 34—32. At the first of the game the Tigers missed their short shots after successfully carrying the ball down the court with short, fast passes, but as the game advanced the team found itself. It was during the second half that the Tigers took the lead. The more experienced Triangles outplayed and led the Tigers throughout the first half but in the final period the Tigers had everything their way. All the Tigers showed up well, especially Norman, flashy center, playing his first year with the team, who scored eleven points during the game.

Central Defeats Yellowjackets

Central 18—Port Arthur 12

The Tigers won the second game of the season when they met the Port Arthur Yellowjackets at the Y. M. C. A. After trailing the Yellowjackets for the first half by the score of 8—6; the Tigers came back and scored twelve points to the Jackets four in the closing period, the final score being 18—12. Coach Sherman used his second string men the first half and sent his regulars to the rescue in the final period. The team showed that it was in first class shape; working its short passes and crisp shots with great success, time and again having clear shots at the basket.

Triangles Defeated Again

Central 21—Triangles 18

Central defeated the Triangles for the second time in a game that was faster, more exciting, and harder fought than the first. At the half the Tigers were trailing 12—6 and prospects for victory were very dim. But the team went into the second half determined to win and after a half full of hair-raising plays, the famous Central short passing game featuring, the score stood 18—18. In the extra period the Tigers fighting with that Central spirit of win or die, succeeded in looping a field goal and a foul while they held the Triangles scoreless, the final score being 21—18. In this game the Tigers showed that they were able to hold their own against any opponent.

Tigers Split

Central 8—A. & M. Freshmen 18

Central 19—Allen Academy

The Tigers played the third game of the season at College Station, bowing to the strong A. & M. Freshmen team, which went through the season without tasting defeat. A. & M. led throughout the game, the final score being 18—8 while the score at the half was 10—7. The whole team stacked up well against its more experienced opponents. The game was played on an unfamiliar court of an odd shape which greatly handicapped the Tigers.

That night they mixed with the strong Allen Academy quintet at Bryan. After a hard fought game the Tigers came from behind and won 19—18 in the last minute of play. The Allen team was leading at the half but as the Tiger regulars took the floor in the final period their score ceased to grow. The Tiger quick short passing game was a great factor in the victory.

Tigers Defeat Bulldogs

Central 17—Heights 8

The Tigers gained the right to represent Houston in the District Tournament by defeating Heights High on the night of February the thirteenth. The Tigers took the lead early in the game and held it throughout. At the half Central was leading 11—3 but was able to score only six points in the final period. The final score was 17—8 with the Tigers in the lead. It was the short pass that puzzled Heights as it has puzzled many others. Coach Sherman had his team so well trained in the passing game that many times it passed up a clear shot at the goal in order to carry the ball beneath the goal for a short crippy shot. The Tigers also broke up plays of the Bulldogs without a great deal of trouble. The close guarding of Uhler and Zuber held Heights to only two field goals, both of these being long shots made from mid-court by Dee, the flashy Heights Forward.

Tigers Win District Championship

Central 73—Dickinson 6

Central 34—Humble 6

Central 39—Angleton 7

The Tigers won the District Tournament without ever being in danger of defeat. On the morning of February 20th they swamped the Dickinson High team, Champions of Galveston County, by the score of 73 to 6. Coach Sherman used his entire squad in the game, Harry Norman being high point man, scoring 20 of the Tiger points. The Tigers held the lead throughout the game the score being 37 to 2 at the half. The Tiger guards held the Dickinson team without a field goal throughout the first half, both points being made from free throws. During the second half the second team ran up a total of 36 points while Dickinson could score but 4.

That afternoon they met the Humble team, champions of Harris County and took them into camp by the score of 34 to 6. Humble failed to show the opposition that they had been expected to show, and again all of the Tigers were given a chance to "show their stuff." With the first team playing the majority of the first half, the Tigers ran up a total of 26 points while Humble could score but 6. In the second half, with the second string men playing, the Tigers scored 8 points to Humble's 2.

Saturday afternoon they met the Angleton team, champions of Brazoria County and conquerors of Ball High of Galveston the day before. Although Angleton fought hard to hold the Tigers they were trailing 21 to 3 at the half. Coach Sherman again sent his second string men into the game for the second half and then switched back to the first team in the last quarter. The Tigers added 18 points to their score in this period and when the game ended the Tigers were on the long end of a 39 to 7 score. The winning of this game gave the Tigers the right to play the Beaumont team the following week. Harry Norman, Tiger center, was high point man of the tournament with 52 points to his credit.

Tigers Drop to Royal Purple

Central 18—Beaumont 23

The Tigers were eliminated from State championship by the strong Beaumont team at the Y. M. C. A. on Friday night, February 27th. Beaumont later won State championship at Austin. The Tigers entered the game greatly handicapped by injuries, while the Beaumont team was in first-class shape. The Tigers were unable to work their short passing game past the Purple and White guards and had to resort to long shots. Because of hard playing the team made many fouls and Beaumont scored 5 points off of free throws during the first half. The score at the half stood 9 to 6 with Beaumont in the lead.

The Tigers went into the final period trailing; but at the start of the period found the basket for three straight goals and took the lead; but the team weakened by the loss of Hucherson, who had a deep cut in his leg, broke under the strain and Beaumont took the lead and held it the rest of the game, the final score being 23 to 18 with the Tigers on the short end. The game was a hard one to lose but the team fought its best and could not help being defeated. Sawyer played a stellar game for the Tigers.

Tigers Swamp Bulldogs

Central 33—Heights 18

The Tigers closed their Basket Ball season by defeating the Heights Bulldogs by the score of 33 to 18. This game decided the City High School championship and was an easy victory for the Tigers. During the first half the game was slow and the score was kept low by the determined efforts of the Bulldog defense; but the Tigers would not be held and found the basket for 4 field goals and shot 4 free throws. At the half the Tigers were leading 12 to 5.

The playing of the second half was much faster and the Tigers went wild working their short passing game at will, scoring 21 more points before the game ended. At the final whistle the Tigers were leading 33 to 18. Sawyer was high point man finding the basket for 11 points. Hucherson ran him close with 10 points. This game closed a successful season in which the Tigers won 9 and lost 2 games.

SPRING SPORTS

CAPTAIN RUDOLPH COLES

LOUISE JOINES

Sponsor

There are many honors to be won in High School; honors for the studious, positions on the staffs of school publications, and scholarships; honors for the popular in student organizations and activities; and honors for the beauties in the school annual; but the most coveted honor, bestowed on the favorite possessing just the proper blend of all these qualities, is that of sponsoring one of Central High School's teams. It was indeed a source of pleasure and satisfaction to the team, the faculty, the student body, and their friends to point out Miss Louise Joines as track sponsor.

We are proud that she was our sponsor; we appreciate her loyalty and her devotion to splendid ideals of the pleasures, privileges, duties and responsibilities of her position. To her the team was not just a factor of victory, but a group of delightfully human individuals, each one of whom was her special charge.

Louise and her maids, Misses Fay Campbell, Gladys Dunman, Bernice Didiot, Norma Smith, Myrtle Mae Camp, Elizabeth John, were representatives of the best in Central High School.

Track Summary

Track Season had not ended when this book went to press, but in early meets the team proved that it was one of the best that has ever represented Central on the track.

The team led by Coach Bright and Captain Rudy Coles has been working hard since early February and its work is certainly showing in the meets, because from a squad of weak material at the start of training, it has developed itself into a smooth running, fast machine, which is able to win at all meets.

At the Piney-Woods meet staged by Steven F. Austin College at Nacogdoches, Central took first place and the relay cup. At this meet nearly all large schools in southeast Texas took part. This showing made by the team proved that it was strong and able to hold its own against any opponent.

At the Rice invitation meet, the Tigers again came out on top winning from a field of over thirty teams. The relay team again took first place. The team brought the high point cup to Central for the second straight year and also the relay cup.

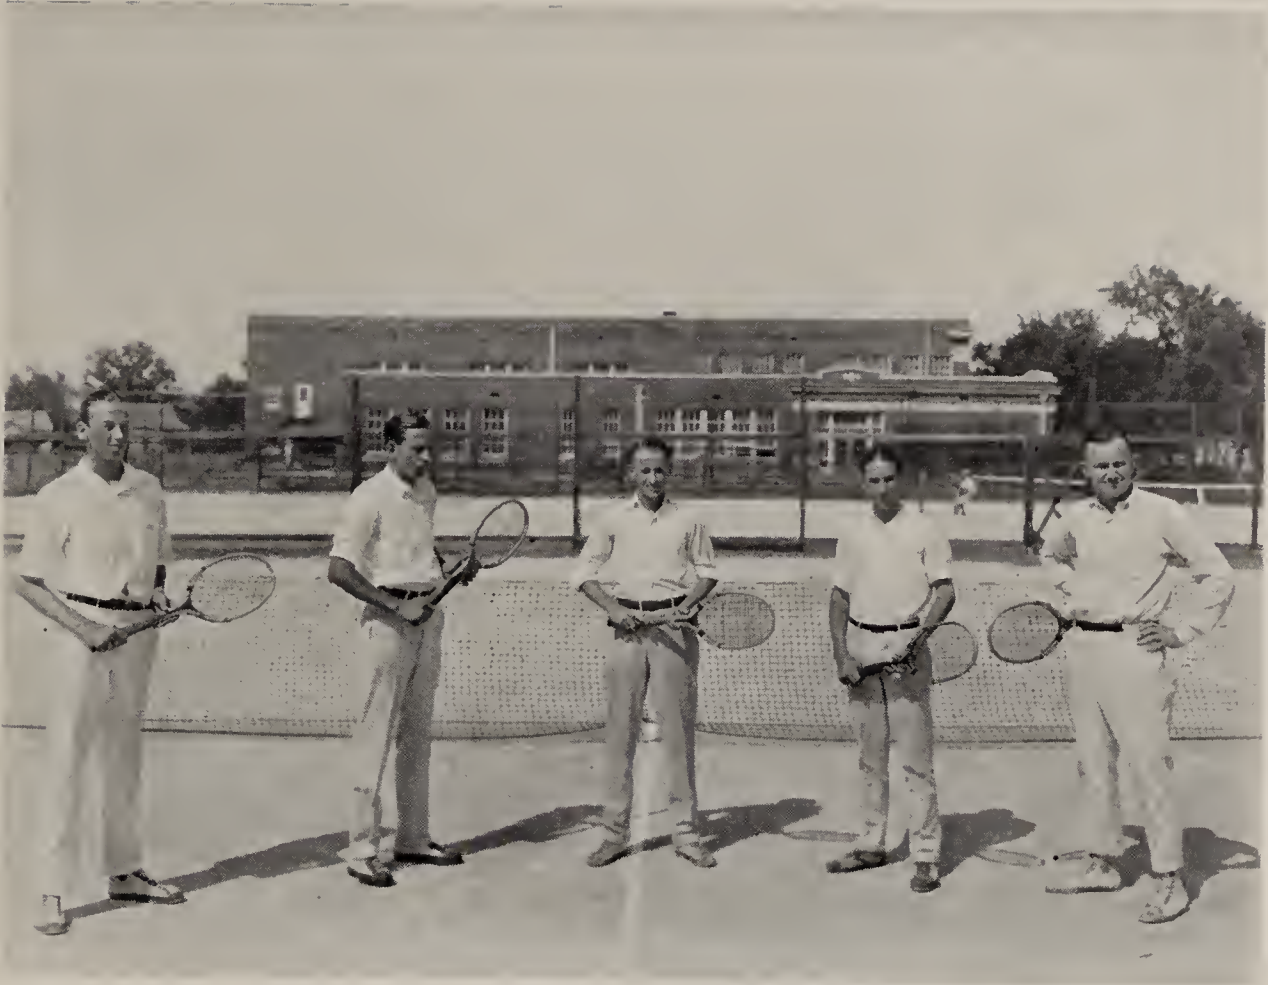

At A. & M. on the 21st of April Central came within 1½ points of taking first place, although handicapped by the absence of Sawyer and Tigner, who were unable to make the trip. Again Central track relay team took first place from a field that included the best teams in the State.

The team is composed of Rudy Coles, Captain; Andy Sawyer, Lee Alexander, Joseph Wells, Herbert Tigner, James Boyles, Joe Walters, Curtis Everett, Robt. Smith, Baxter Moody, Russell Wolfe, Marion Mobley, Wallace Berry, Aubrey Calvin.

If the team keeps on as it is going now, it should win the State championship.

Central again carried off all honors in the district meet, held at Rice field on the twenty-fourth and fifth, scoring 32 points to 21 scored by Humble their nearest opponent. The meet was Central's from start to finish. They scored 17 points in the field events Friday and ran the total to 32 in the track finals Saturday. Again the Tiger relay team composed of Boyles, Wells, Alexander, and Coles finished first, leading the entire field by fifty yards. Sawyer's work in the field events greatly boosted Central's total. Central will be represented in every event at Austin when the time for the State meet comes.

Central High Girls Baseball

Central High girls Baseball team was a great success last season, winning the city championship and being awarded the loving cup.

Faith Lee was our enthusiastic captain. Annie Parker, Genevieve Miller, Florence Karnaky, Gene Payne were our star players. We are hoping that this year our team will be as successful as last year's. Our schedule is planned but not complete.

The team is hindered owing to the graduation of several good players. However, there are four letter-men back. Genevieve Miller, Eugenia Payne, Florence Kornaky, and Ruby Roggen.

We had forty-five girls sign up for this season. There are two junior teams who have been playing since November. The captains are: Fay Carter, and Carrie Danna.

Band Boys

To the boys in our band we wish to express our sincerest appreciation of their work. They were ever ready to help stir up enthusiasm for "pep" meetings and for football games—Then music proved to have such charm that the Tigers played their way through a year of athletic victories.

In the Latin Tournament staged at Central High on the third of April, 1925, Central won first place in the third year division contest, and also in the contest for beginners.

This was the second annual Latin Tournament for South and East Texas high schools. Thirty-four Texas schools were represented by one hundred seventy-two entrants.

Girls of the Domestic science department served luncheon at 11 A. M., after all contestants had registered. An hour later examinations got under way. At 3:30 in the afternoon the visitors were taken on a boat ride down the ship channel. Those who did not avail themselves of this opportunity were taken about the city in machines furnished by Central students. A banquet at the Rice Hotel at 7:30 P. M., concluded the day's activities.

Jeffersonian Debating Club

The time has now come to inscribe upon the rolls of fame the illustrious deeds of the Jeffersonian Debating Club for the year 1924-25.

To write a club history is to relate facts and not to tell stories. Were it allowed the Club Historian to tell what he expects of his fellow Club members we could picture to you numbers of Gladstones and Wilsons, but this is not permitted.

The Club has furnished speakers for many school activities and held three important debates with out of town debating teams. The first outside debate of the season was held February 27th, 1925, with the debating team of the Humble High School in Humble and resulted in a victory for the Jeffersonians. Mr. N. B. Brunson and Mr. Francis M. Barler represented the Club in this debate. A return debate was held in Houston on March 6th, with the team from Humble; Mr. Francis M. Barler and Mr. Francis Fischer represented the Club, debating on the opposite side of the question from that which the Jeffersonians represented in the first debate with Humble, the question being: "Resolved, That the United States Should Grant the Philippine Islands their Independence at the End of a Period of Five Years."

The ninth semi-annual banquet of the Jeffersonians was held at the Brazos Hotel on Thursday evening, February 26, 1925, to inaugurate the officers elected for the Spring term. Among the guests of the Club were Mr. Brandenburger and Mr. H. W. Harris, Sponsor of the Athenian Debating Club, and his wife.

On Friday evening, March 13, 1925, the Jeffersonians debated the Forum Debating Club of the Waco High School at the Taylor School Auditorium in Houston, on the affirmative side of the question: "Resolved, That the United States Should Grant the Phillipine Islands their Independence at the end of a Period of Five Years;" Mr. Francis M. Barler and Mr. Lawrence Brewer representing the Club. Music was furnished for the occasion by the Central High School Orchestra under the direction of Miss Carrie Will Coffman. The Waco debaters won the decision.

On Friday evening, April 10th, the First Annual contest between the Athenian Debating Club and the Jeffersonians in declamation, oratory and debating was held. Mr. Gerard Morgenstern and Mr. Raymond H. Moers represented the Club in declamation and Mr. N. B. Brunson represented the Club in oratory. Mr. Francis M. Barler and Mr. Lawrence Brewer represented the Club in debating, on the negative side of the question: Resolved, "That the United States Should Grant the Phillipine Islands their Independence at the End of a Period of Five Years."

The Athenian representatives were awarded first place in declamation and oratory but the team representing the Jeffersonians in debating were adjudged to have won the debating contest and the Club was presented with a silver mounted gavel, with the name of the Club engraved upon it; thus maintaining the high standard set by the Club in former years and adding to that long line of victories which so justly makes the Club famous. Mr. Francis M. Barler was the representative of the Club on the debating team entered by Central High School in the District Contest of the Interscholastic League Meet held at Rice Institute April 24th and 25th. A team representing the Jeffersonians won this contest last year and went to Austin for the semi-finals.

We feel much encouraged at the success attained by the Club during the year 1924-25 and look forward with a great deal of hope and encouragement to succeeding years and believe that the Jeffersonians have an even brighter future.

Mr. M. A. Miller is Sponsor of the Club.

“Ennis Alpha Kappa”

In May 1910 at old Central High the Ennis Alpha Kappa was organized by Miss Howard for the purpose of promoting an interest in the history of art.

The E. A. K. has the distinction of having contributed several members to the first class at Rice, when it opened its doors in 1912, who chose the study of History of Art because of the interest that had been aroused in the Ennis Alpha Kappa of Central High. The club now with Miss Howard as sponsor is pursuing the study of History of Art by observing pictures that will be the property of the members when they leave school.

The present membership consists of:

Mythos Club

The Mythos Club is an organization of Latin Students who study mythology and its relation to Latin. The benefits of the club are great to those who study Virgil, as the Aeneid requires much research work in the mythology field.

Le Cercle Francais

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS could truly be translated as meaning a circle of friends who have enjoyed the good fellowship, the educational opportunity, and the rollicking good times that we had together in our club. Since our fifty cents dues proved inadequate to finance our activities, the French Club opened two candy booths in Central's corridors. This and various other undertakings were successfully carried out by the competent officers with the assistance of our beloved sponsors and the cooperation of the members. But not to be forgotten: Did we have fun? The answer contains too many yeas to count. French plays, games, and solving cross-word puzzles were some of the means of creating the pep and fun present at every meeting.

Members make a club go 'round, and below are the reasons why Le Cercle Francais had a most successful, happy year.

La Estudiantina

The club was formed for the purpose of promoting things Spanish among the afternoon students of Central, registered in the Spanish department.

OUR programs are novel affairs, with lectures on the student-life and customs of Latin-America, old Texas legends, and Spanish songs.

Entertainments in the form of parties a la Espanola have been enjoyed by the club and guests.

Central Scholarship Club

"The highest honor is to be a member of a Scholarship Club"

(AFTERNOON SESSION)

The first honorary society at Central began with the organization of the Scholarship Club, the second term.

Only those who are scholarship students may be candidates for membership. In addition, a successful candidate must receive a favorable vote from the active membership.

During the short existence of the club, it has given two successful entertainments as well as having carried on a wide publicity campaign.

G. R. Dramatic Fling

On the nights of March 5th and 6th, the Girl Reserves of Central ventured forth behind the footlights, and presented "A Couple of Curious Courtships."

Roger Gray Haile as the privilege-robbed father and husband raved and ranted in realistic fashion, while his fond spouse, Alene Vandever, pleaded in vain. Anna, the maid, indefatigable reader of dime novels, helped to complicate the plot with her unfailing susceptibility, while Bill the Gardener, depicted by Eggerton Robb, was the chief object of her amorous glances. Into this household of Brewer came one Reggie DePeyster, a "death of a fellow" in his own words, seeking the hand of Eunice Brewer, the red-headed (and in every sense of the word too) daughter of the above mentioned irritable father. Altho this romance was not going so smoothly, the other daughter of the house, Samantha had found a lost love in the disguise of Michael the butler. Everything really did come out nicely in the end, however, even if it was, as Reggie said, "All mixed up like a bottle of chow-chow."

Mary Louise Heyne gave a creditable performance of the maid, and handled the difficult Irish brogue with dexterity. Beverly Fonville as Samantha and Margaret Helen Grant as Eunice played up well as the two sisters, and quarreled with true vehemence. And last but not least Clarence Taylor, playing the role of Michael the butler alias Jack Thornton, gave the plot a touch of humor with his wig, that always seemed to be off at the wrong time.

On the whole, the Girl Reserves did themselves proud, putting on a well staged show with good scenery, and diversion between acts in the form of a chorus and a reading.

Senior Struggle

Close on the heels of the Mid-Winter Final Hop, followed a nondescript "dollar dance" sponsored by the Senior class. A motley crowd assembled: Central students, Rice stews, evening gowns, sport suits, and greatly in the minority but nevertheless, holding their own, one or two brave members of the faculty. Mark Westcott and his music makers did their best, so with our usual tact, we'll put the blame on the rotten accoustics of Turnverin Hall.

"Jo's" Football Dance

One of the most enjoyable affairs of the Christmas season was the dance given in honor of Central's football team by Jowyter Jones. Summoned by cleverest of invitations the guests appeared in the Bender ball room on the night of December the twentieth, nineteen hundred and twenty-four, and ably assisted by Edide's Syncopators, proceeded to put Terpsichore to shame.

For those who did not bring their own refreshments, (that remark not being without subtlety) there was punch in profusion, and for those who could not entertain their partners between dances (still subtle), there were horns and hats.

There is, of course, an end to all good things, and although the anticipation of the fight for the back seat was alluring, no one left without the pleasantest of memories of that night, and that joyous "chairman of the cheers."

Aegis Banquet

The banquet given by the Supreme Council for the Fall Term Aegis Staff was a most enjoyable affair; it was at the Brazos Hotel.

Large baskets filled with daisies, and silver candle sticks with orange tapers formed the decorations for the occasion.

Miss Nancy Forbes was an excellent toast mistress and managed to keep the banquet lively at all times.

Among the guests were Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Oberholtzer, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Black, and Mr. W. J. Moyes.

Senior Picnic

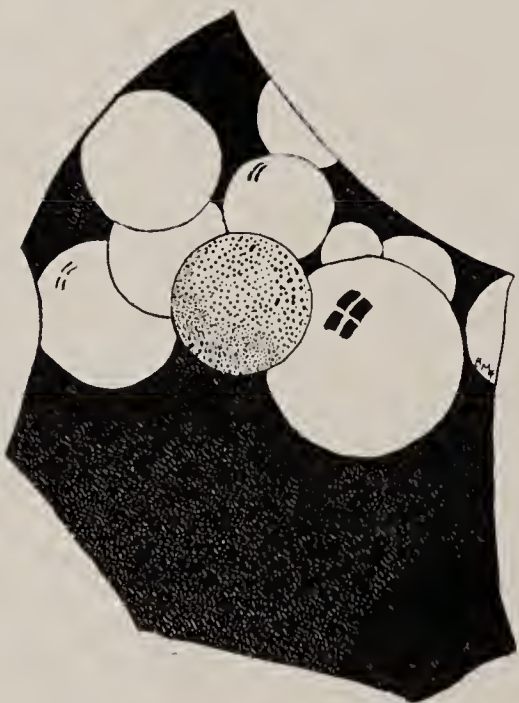

What picnic, be it a success or a failure has not gone off accompanied by a rain shower? The Senior picnic of the Midwinter Class was no exception to the rule, nor was it in any sense of the word a failure.

At 8:00 o'clock, Friday morning January 16th, about twenty members out of a total of one hundred and sixteen of the class, with a few friends and a great many chaperones collected and made the trip in cars to Sylvan. They arrived at their destination at ten o'clock, ready for the Party. As there was an interval between the time of their coming and the time for lunch, they indulged in the very dignified game of jumping rope with the chaperones fighting for their turns. As they were becoming too heated in the game, and as the rain by then had set in good, they assembled in the pavilion, where lunch was served.

For those that were able to leave the table, there was the dance floor ready with Eddie's Syncopaters providing the music. The dancing continued till 4:00 o'clock, when the chaperones "rounded" them up for the trip homeward.

Mid-Winter Final Hop

The January seniors staged a good dance in spite of its early finish. The ceiling of the University Club seemed a veritable cloud of silver balloons, while the Rice Collegians were concealed on an island rose garden in the midst of a stormy sea of dancers. The class colors, rose and silver were used in the light and wall decorations, and confetti and serpentine added to the general confusion. Punch was ladled throughout the evening by dusky servitors. Although the affair was scheduled to last until two o'clock, "Home Sweet Home" was played at one, followed by a chorus of disappointed "Aw's."

COPY WRITING

"Why do you compare Sarah's head to a door knob?"

"—So easy to turn."

He: "I'm a little stiff from polo."

She: "You don't say! I have some friends living there."

"Why name your boy Sears Roebuck?"

"Because he is of the male order."

"Why is this fellow called a 'Knight of the Garter?'"

"Because he is one of the King's chief supporters."

Sweet sixteen: "Do you really love me?"

Naughty 19: "Well, I've tried as hard as I could."

"Did you ever hear the story of the Golden Fleece?"

"No. Do they bite?"

"I see where Poli Bara is using Corn Whiskey in the movies."

"What for?"

"To make'r reel."

"Is he lazy?"

"Lazy? Why he's so lazy he rides in a Ford car in order to save the effort of knocking the ashes off his cigar."

She: "I'm sorry, but I can't return your ring."

He: "Well, then, just give me the pawn ticket."

TAKE IT ALONG?

Customer: "I would like to see something Scotch."

Salesman: "She, not so loud. Come in the back of the store with me."

"I'll get to the bottom of this yet," said Chas. Shofner, as he fell down the coal chute.

"I punished you merely to show my love for you," said the fond father, after chastisement.

"T-that's all right," sobbed the small boy, "but it's a g-good thing for you I ain't big enough to return your love,—that's all."

FAMOUS SAYINGS OF FAMOUS PEOPLE.

Mr. Johnson: "I love the ladies."

Miss Beard: "The first hundred years are the hardest."

Tom Crowder: "Don't give up the ship."

Satan (sharpening pitch forks): "Next!"

Sir Walter Raleigh (to Queen Elizabeth): "Step lively."

Queen (to Sir Walter Raleigh): "Keep your shirt on."

Lillie Rice: "Hold your horses."

"Order, Order!" shouted Mr. Simons.

"I'll take a fried ham sandwich," said Seth Hathaway, just awaking.

Mr. Brandenberger (angrily catching frisky freshman by the collar): "I believe the devil has got hold of you."

Fresh: "I believe he has, too."

Bernice D.: "Oh, Hoover, you tickle me."

Hoover: "Aw, you tickled me first."

GEOMETRIC FIGURES

The ant was standing by the body of a dead horse.

Overhead the sun was beating down mercilessly from a clear blue sky. The ant had looked at the carcass wonderingly.

Suddenly a man dropped some corn whiskey near the ant. The ant sniffed the fumes, wiggled his antennae, and hummed a ditty. He then drank one of the drops of whiskey. He licked his chops, his head swam, his eyes blurred, his antics became spiffy. He shivered his thorax and shimmied his antennae. Then he took another drink. Seizing the carcass of the dead horse by its head, he said, "Come on, big boy, let's go home."

1st flea (on Post Toastie box): "What's your hurry?"

2nd flea: "Don't you see that sign, 'Tear along the edge?' "

Gladys Dunman: "Is that the gown you're going to wear to the senior hop?"

Faye Campbell: "No dear, so far I have decided on nothing

Wanted—To be on time to class just once.
Walter Putnam.

It was election day at Central and Harry McCormick was witnessing the event. Mr. Moyes came along and said, "Harry, you wouldn't sell your vote, would you?"

"No, sir, I sure wouldn't, but if any boy running for office was to give me two bits, I would vote for him out of common gratitude."

UNDISCOVERED.

Breathes there a man with soul so dead who ne'er to himself hath said, as he banged his toe upon the bed: X X !! EX—?

Miss Lovelace: "Why were you tardy today, Herbert?"

Herbert Tigner: "Well, the clock was slow, the cook was late and the car got off the track."

Miss Lovelace: "What else, Herbert?"

Herbert Tigner: "My goodness, ain't that enough!"

Margaret Ewing: "I wish I had a pony for Latin."

Althea: "Shucks, a pony! I need a mule."

Eliz. John: "Mr. Johnson wishes us to save space in the 'Cosmos' for a speech of his."

Miss Staggs: "Never mind, Elizabeth, we have enough jokes already."

Jim Bayles: "Where's the funny paper?"

Bill Bailey: "Today ain't Sunday. I told you not to take that bath last night."

"Why so sad?"

"I just told the Prof. to mark my words."

"And did he?"

"Yeah, with a zero."

GERALDINE SAYS—

I wore a racy evening gown
Direct from Paris, France.

The chaperons would stare at me,
When 'round their way I'd dance.

The girls all gasped, the boys all looked—
I gave them all an eyeful.

I don't see why it caused a stir,
For it was just a trifle.

Donald Pool: "Tate, is that snow?"

Tate Simpson: "No, fool, that's just the angels dandruff."

Abie: "Mommer, what do cows live on?"

Momma: "Fodder, Abie."

Abie: "Oi, I didn't think papa was so generous."

RECIPROCITY.

I kept a diary in my youth,

And in a way absurd

Wrote down in undiluted truth

What day by day occurred.

All my flirtations, all my sprees,

I wrote out in detail

The many, many darling "shes"

I noted without fail.

I wed—she found the book and knew

The awful life I'd had

But then—I found she'd kept one too

And it was just as bad.

"What are they playing now?"

"Beethoven's Ninth Symphony."

"What! Have we missed the other eight?"

"Are you interested in art?"

"Not well enough to call him by his first name."

"The 21st day of December is the shortest day in the year."

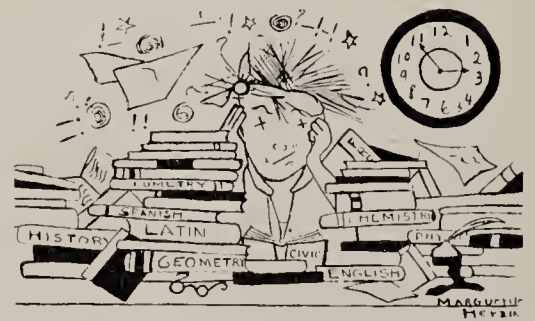

"Yes," mused the young thing in black velvet and ermine jacket,— "and the longest night."

A woman bought one of the new dresses—"with the back to the front effect." She went to a dance, and there met a short sighted acquaintance,—he shook hands with her shoulder blades.

At a school dance a sign was seen which read: "Girls! No dresses are to be worn above the knees."

Sheiks: "Most girls claim they could die dancing with me."

Meek: "Well it does look rather hazardous."

An Editorial

Heretofore it has been our opinion that the complaining of the editor of a high school annual is but a habit. However, since passing through the terrors of putting out the 1925 "Cosmos," we wish to extend to all editors of the "Cosmos" our sincerest sympathy—it is a JOB and one without reward save the criticism of the unrelenting student body.

To secure the interest and cooperation of the students of Central seemed very, very difficult. There were times even when fair gods and goddesses had to be implored to have their pictures made. But now that the book has gone to press, we wish to forget the difficulties and remember only that we want all Centralites to like our book.

To several persons not on the Staff we are greatly indebted for assistance in our undertaking.

Of course, Mr. Moyes was forever ready to help us. And to Miss Patterson, Miss Hagen, and Miss Staggs goes the honor of being the best faculty advisors in the world. They were always willing to give of their valuable ideas and of their valuable assistance. They were the easiest persons imaginable to get along with, and the Staff found great pleasure in being associated with them.

To Miss Duvernoy we owe thanks for the use of her list of graduates; to Mrs. McBlain of the Wheat Studio; we owe gratitude for her invaluable assistance in finding pictures for all the graduates on Miss Duvernoy's list.

To Herbert Caldwell and Tate Simpson and to Mr. Sherman belongs much credit for their help in mounting the Art lay-outs.

Without Irvin Sacks and Alton Nance our advertising material would have been much less. These boys were untiring in their efforts, and cannot be commended too highly for their work.

And without Mrs. Burk and her assistants our typing would not have existed. Even this very editorial would never have reached you.

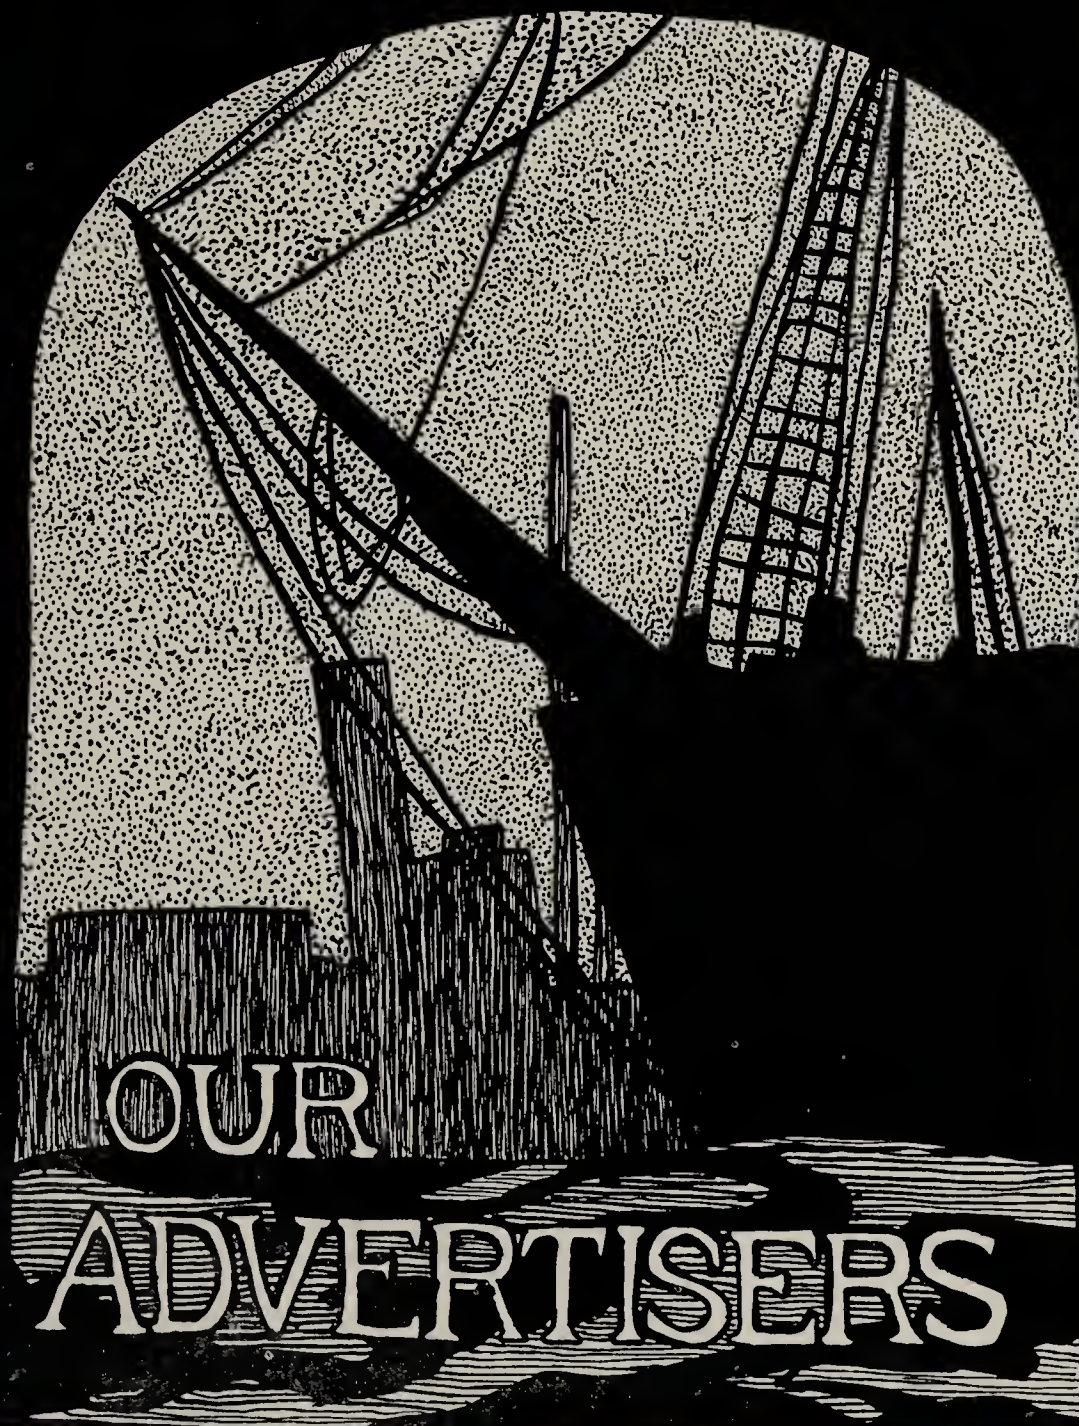

There are two others to whom we wish to express our appreciation. They are everybody's friends, Mrs. McDougall and Miss Burns. They have done us more favors than almost anybody else. Not one request of the Staff was ever refused by either of them. They were always chasing us for the telephone. How we do appreciate their help.

We'll refrain from mentioning those who always said "Manana" when asked about material due today.

Well, here's your year book, Central, we've done our best—and we challenge next year's Staff to do better.

THE STAFF.

Work and Play in Telephone Land

The telephone operator works between rests. Most of the time, it is true, she sits at the switchboard putting up the talk tracks for the subscriber, but in between times are periods for recreation, in which she has opportunity for change and relaxation. Attractive rest rooms invite a variety of diversions—sewing, dancing, reading, conversation—or just rest.
